BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES ON SPEAKERS

(in alphabetical order)

Professor Dr. Björn Ahl

Prof. Ahl is a chaired professor of Chinese legal culture at the Institute of East Asian Studies of the University of Cologne. He studied Law and Chinese at the University of Heidelberg and the University of Nanjing. Between 1999 and 2002, Prof. Ahl worked as a researcher at the Max Planck Institute of Comparative Public Law and International Law in Heidelberg, where he reported regularly on the developments of public law in Asian jurisdictions. Under the supervision of Prof. Jochen Frowein he began to work on his PhD thesis about the application of international treaties in China. He then worked as the deputy director of the Sino German Institute of Legal Studies, a joint project of the University of Nanjing and the University of Göttingen, where he taught courses in German and Chinese law.

In 2006 Prof. Ahl became an Assistant Professor of Law at the City University of Hong Kong. In 2008 he received a PhD in law from Heidelberg University. In 2010 he was appointed Visiting Professor of Chinese Law, Comparative Public Law, and International Law at the China EU School of Law at the Chinese University of Political Science and Law in Beijing.

Professor Dr. Dr. h.c. Hans-Jörg Albrecht

Prof. Dr. Dr. h.c. Hans-Jörg Albrecht is a director at the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law in Freiburg/Germany, as well as an honorary professor and faculty member at the law faculty of the University of Freiburg. He is a guest professor at the Center for Criminal Law and Criminal Justice at the China University of Political Science and Law and at the law faculties of Hainan University, Ren Min University, Wuhan University, Beijing Normal University, and Dalian Ocean University.

Prof. Albrecht's research interests span the breadth of modern legal and criminological discourse. His interests range from topics such as sentencing theory, juvenile crime and justice, illegal drug policy, and environmental and organized crime to evaluative research on the role of criminal justice in transitional legal systems. He has authored, co-authored, and edited numerous works, including volumes on sentencing, day-fines, recidivism, child abuse and neglect, drug policies, and victimization.

Professor Dr. Georg Michael Gesk

Prof. Gesk is a chaired professor of Chinese Law at the University of Osnabrück. He was one of the first Westerners to obtain a Bachelor of Laws at the National Taiwan University. Due to his outstanding academic performance, he was subsequently admitted to the doctoral program after completion of the master program. He later lectured on criminal law and criminal procedure law at Hsuan Chuang University, where he served as the director of the law school for six years. He has also taught at the National Taiwan University and at the Free University Berlin.
